Responsible Gaming Day
17 April 2008
European Parliament, Brussels

EGBA | European Gaming & Betting Association

Organised at the initiative of the European Gaming and Betting Association (EGBA), the objective of the event is to launch the first broadly-based EU political discussion on responsible gaming. The event will bring together EU and national policy makers, academia, players' association, as well as senior representatives from private and state-owned gaming operators. The event will debate and reflect on the policy framework for consumer protection in online gaming and address issues such as underage gaming, advertising and problem gaming.
