

Promoting Government e-Procurement:
Initiatives en Europe and Japan
EUJapan Centre for Industrial Cooperation

French experience in e-Procurement for a more efficient Public Procurement System at local and central level –
Experience in PEPPOL EU Project

Jean-Philippe Nadal – ADETEF – France
jean-philippe.nadal@adetef.finances.gouv.fr

Introduction

- Introducing myself shortly
 - At present, Adetef, Agency of the French Ministry of Finance for international cooperation in charge of Public Procurement Department
- Introducing my words: a glance at 3 experience in the EU French context of use of e-Procurement for a more efficient PPS

introduction

1. The very recent State procurement reform in France with the creation of a new State Agency which was given ambitious objectif of reduction of costs in public procurement
2. The success story of UGAP, a central procuring agency acting mostly on behalf of local government authorities with again main objective of reducing costs and save money.
3. The French participation in the European PEPPOL project whose objective is to experiment new functions in e-procurement in the context of cross-border exchanges.